It was because these people upheld the constitution an laws against the native abolitionists that my colleague's know-nothing party, when it came into power in Massachusetts, disbended the military companies composed of foreigners, and refused to align them the privilege of supporting the government of their adopted country. The fact is undeniable that gince the anti-slavery movement has become so formidable, the great body of foreigners in the North have acted with the friends of the constitution and of the South against the native 2-bolitionists. Is it not, therefore, strange that Mr. Reade, a citizen of a southern State, should advise his constituents to join the served for a few months as a statesman, as well as his long experience, and and extensive information, and dignity and courtesy of manner as a gentleman, all go to form a character every way worthy of the high station for which he has been nominated. As to his colleague on the ticket, John C. Breckin-ridge, an intimate acquaintance for four years, during our joint congressional service, authorizes me to say that he is, in all respects, eminently qualified for the office of Vice President of the United States.

Our opponents, the black republicans, have nominated Col. J. C. Fremont for the Presidency. Col. Fremont is a native of South Carolina, but a citizen, I believe, of California, from which State he served for a few months as a Senator, ern State, should advise his constituents to join State he served for a few months as a Senator, the native abolitionists in making war upon the foreigners, because these foreigners are friends of our own section? The contest, then, is really between the democratic party, purified by losing its free-soil elements, and strengthened by the accession of ratriotic and intelligent whigs, and all the anti-notic and intelligent which are provided to the content of t

Mr. Webster himself had repeatedly voted for the Wilmot proviso, and on one occasion claimed the authorship of that principle, and said that Wilmot had "stolen his thunder." In his speech of the 7th of March, 1859, which was recorded as conciliatory in its tone, he said that he

Respectfully, T. L. CLINGMAN. CITY OF WASHINGTON, June 20, 1856.

We can hardly chronicle the numerous accessions to the Democratic party from the ranks o the old-line Whigs. In every State of the Union there are more or less of the old Clay and Web ster "guard" which is attaching itself to our or-ganization. A Boston correspondent of the New York Day Book thus writes about the condition of things in Massachusetts. He says:

of things in Massachusetts. He says:

On the other hand, Choate and the other great waitery in its tone, he said that he would not vote to put the Wilmot proviso on the Maxican territory, because in that territory slavely was already excluded by the existing law, and the proviso was unnecessary. In making this attement, I do not wish to detract from the general liberality of Mr. Webster's riews on that occasion. As to Mr. Fillmore's oppointments in the North to foreign missions, and other high stations, they were in every instance, as far as I know, made from the ranks of the freesoliers of Wilmot-proviso men. By freesoliers of the George Massachusetts with a little good many these appointees of Mr. Fillmore were, by their services in Congress, personally known to me, and

What His Neighbors Say of Him-It is no matter of trifling consideration and sense freesoilers. If he ever did make an appointment in a free State to any office of a person who had shown himself willing that the common territories of the Union should be open to Southern men and their slave property as well as to Northern ones, I do not know it, and have no reason to belive it. Nor did Mr. Fillmore, in making these appointments, require the individuals to renounce their former views.

The case then between General Pierce and The case, then, between General Pierce and Mr. Fillmore ought to be thus stated: General Pierce appointed a few men who had been free-life. After a few introductory remarks the edihigh and low, none but free-soilers, without requiring them to renounce any previous opinions.

If, therefore, Mr. Reade is opposed to Pierce for, the reason stated by him, he ought, if consis ent, to oppose Fillmore with ten times as much zeal. I regret to be compelled to go into this matter, because Mr. Fillmore, when President, in accordance with his oath of office, showed himself willing to execute the laws, as well for the benefit of the South as the North, and was in other respects conservative in his administration. But, gentlemen, waiving further and was in other respects conservative in his administration. But, gentlemen, waiving further notice of Mr. Reade's letter, the principal points of which I have sufficiently examined, let us turn our attention to the presidential candidates before the country.

If she usually wears water curls, or uses the 'iron,' her hair is brush's ed carefully from her forehead, and the whole mass compactly secured; if not, then her lovely tresses are soon hid in innumerable bits of paper. This task accomplished, a night cap appears, perhaps edged with plain muslin or perhaps with heavy lace, which hides all save her own sweet countenance. As soon as she ties the string, pro-bably she takes a peep into the glass, and half blushes at what she sees. The light is out—her fair form presses the coach—and like a dear, innocent, lovely creature, us she is, she falls gently into sleep with a sweet smile on her still sweeter face. A man, of course, under the same circumstances, acts quite defferently. Every movement in his chamber indicates the coarse round mould of his sullen nature. When all is ready, he snuffs out the candle with his fingers, like a cannibal, and then jumps into bed like a savage. For a few moments he thinks of all the pecadilloes he may have committed during the day—vows a vow to amend soon, groans, turns over, stretches himself, and then all is silence save the heavy

The men who alleged to be of that class hold comparatively subordinate stations; and on behalf of the president it is contended that in every instance, before any such previously abandoned their former obnoxious views, and adopted the national principles of the Democratic platform of the Baltimore Convention of 1852. But, to test my colleague's consistency, let us see how Mr. Fillmore ands on this question. He is presented by Mr. Reade for your suffrage as a man without fault. In my canvass last summer I had occasion to put this matter right, and I repeat what I then in substance said. The three members of Mr. Fillmore said. The three members of the Union of the States would not endure for two years longer. It is the force of this truth which is causing wise men and prejudices, to take their stand with those who intend to make a great effort for the maintenance of the government of Washington. .....JUNE 29, 1856.

Bank Troubles. Our readers will remember that the Legisla ture, during the past winter, passed a charter for the "People's Bank," at Bowling Green, with a capital of $250,000. It was so restricted and hedged round with safe-guards, that many even of the Democratic members voted for it, desiring to see the experiment tried as to whether a Bank, so cautiously restricted, could prove money-making to its stockholders. Its principal opposition, indeed, was from the old Banks of the State, and especially from the old Bank at Bowling Green. The friends of that delightful old monopoly were bitter in their hostility to the new Bank, and exerted all their powerful influence to defeat the passage of the Charter.

In spite of all their management, however, the Charter passed; and having failed to destroy it, they determined to rule it to their own uses .-With this purpose in view, they privately got up lists of subscribers to the stock to an amount sufficient to take into their own keeping the control of the Bank, and make it a catspaw to their mammoth shaving machine.

But the best laid schemes of mice and men, even of Bank men, do not always work smoothly. The true friends of the Bank-those who had originated it, who had procured the passage of the Charter, and struggled for its success-got wind of the intended trick of the old hunkers, and prepared themselves accordingly.

On the 2d of June, nine out of eleven of the Commissioners met in Bowling Green for the purpose of opening the books for subscriptions of stock, and organized by electing Major James T. Donaldson Chairman, and Charles McKinney Secretary. The following resolution was then unanimously adopted:

Resolved. That the books for subscriptions to the capital stock of the People's Bank of Kenshall be kept open until two thousand five hundred shares (being the full amount of the capital of said Bauk) shall be received and entered by the Secretary; provided it does not require more than thirty days. So soon as that number of shares shall be thus entered, the books shall be closed, and no offers to subscribe stock after that shall be entered by the Com-

After this settlement of preliminaries, it was proclaimed from the door that the Books were in the several States." open to receive subscriptions.

Mr. E. D. Payne then stepped forward and subscribed for $10,000 of stock, and paid down the $5 upon each share as required by the Charter. He also proceeded to subscribe for stock for various individuals, who had authorized him by power of Attorney to act for them.

White this was going on, the room was rapidly filled with citizens. Amongst others, four Directors of the old Bank, with one of its Attorneys at their head, presented themselves at the Secretary's table, and demanded to have the names of certain persons entered as subscribers for swek. One of them held a list of names in his hynd, and each of teem carried a bag of old Bank gold, to pay the justalment of $5 per

They were noise to begin; and the Chairman of the Brand informed them that as soon as Mr. Payne was torouga they should be attended to-Payme west on entering the subscriptions which he had been requested to enter by various farmers, and the Old Book mon grew impatient .-He had a read spiered Si00.000. On he went to $150,000, when the old hunkers grew red in the face, then indignant, sweated profusely, and demanded his subscriptions.—
He calmly exhibited a power of Attorney from each man for whom he took stock, and the Secretary went on entering his subscriptions reached $200,000, when the old hunkers became farlors. They saw they were gone—that the friends of the Bank had foiled the great American public.

I wes, in the convention presided over by George Washington, framed the instrument which has hitherto bound us together as one people. And instead of laboring to produce dangerous excitements upon false issues, it might be better for political leaders to permit their pulsations to throb more in unison with the honest heart of the great American public.

They saw they were gone—that the friends of the Bank had foiled throb more in unison with the honest heart of the effect of one vast garland extending behind the throne, mirrored and repeated in a hundred the throne mirrored and repeated in a hundred the convention presided over by George to the floor, and that opposite was another of similar proportions, reflecting back and doubling the magnificent scene, while extending along behind the royal throne and dais, was a rich bank of flowers of many bright hues, terminating in a golden pillar on either side, each supporting a porphyry vase filled with delicate hued flowers, so as to give the effect of one vast garland extending behind the royal throne and dais, was a rich bank of flowers of many bright hues, terminating in a golden pillar on either side, each supporting a porphyry vase filled with delicate hued flowers, so as to give the effect of one vast garland extending behind the royal throne and dais, was a rich bank of flowers of many bright hues, terminating in a golden pillar on either side, each supporting a porphyry vase filled with delicate hued flowers, so as to give the effect of one vast garland extending behind the royal throne and dais, was a rich bank of flowers of similar proportions reached the reach was another of similar proportions reached the reached and doubling the magnificent scene. demanded his authority for his subscriptions .assumed the attitude of a mob, and curses and threatened violence were the order of the day.

The gallant old Chairman, however, was firm and unbending. Payne's shares having all been entered, amounting to the whole stock of the Bank, ($250,000,) the books were closed, and placed under lock and key to prevent their degree against the other, in order to keep some of the Garter. The Prime Concert was attired in a cerise tarlatan dress, over white satin, and across her breast she wore the Star and Ribbon of the Order of the Garter. The Prime Concert was attired in a cerise tarlatan dress, over white satin, and across her breast she wore the Star and Ribbon of the Order of the Garter.

But it did not end here. A public meeting was called-an "indignation" meeting-made up of Bank officers, Bank Directors, Bank debtors, Bank Attorneys, and Bank toadies-who fulminated in flatulent speeches, passed mobocratic resolutions, and made themselves generally ridiculous. Amongst others in the meeting, were four of the Commissioners of the new Bank, who entered their solemn protest, in bad English, have given above-although one of them had writ- Fremont, by a grand fusion at the eleventh hour. ten it and offered it, another of them had seconded it, and all of them had voted for it.

We rejoice that the Peoples' Bank is in the hands of its friends—that it has been preserved from the disastrous touch of the old Bank clique over the many vile influences which were combined to prostrate them. Were we a member of the Board of Directors, we should give our vote for M for Dougloon for President of the Bank— He is a gallant and true-nearted gentlemaniathful to his friends—intelligent, discreet and prodent; a scorner of all oppression—and has the high recommendation of being hated intensely by the Bowling Green Bank chique.

This is the true history of the Bank trouble at Bowling Green. We have taken some pains the ludians, and was Adjutant General under Governor Shelby, in the war of 1812. In the capacity of a Trustee of Centre College from its foundation, and for a number of years President of the Board of Trustees, he rendered important services to the cause of learning and religion.

This is the true history of the Bank trouble at Bowling Green. We have taken some pains to leave the master, and we could not fail that never will be forgotten. The effect was that of two pavilions opening into each other—the one of rose color and white, the other of blue and white, the other of the Board of the Board of Trustees, he rendered important services to the cause of learning and religion.

This is the true history of the Bank trouble at Bowling Green Bank chique and white, the other of blue and white, the other of blue and white, t

"In reviewing the humble part, which I have taken in public, during a period not now short, there is nothing which I can review with more pleasure than the course I have pursued on the subject of slavery. Wnen I first came into the Senate I found the abolition excitement much more violent than it is at present. The mails were then loaded with pictorial representations calculated to arouse the passions of the slave and excite him to vengeance. The danger of servile insurrection was imminent. Those engaged in the agitation believed they were doing God service Honest fanaticism, in the history of our race, has done as much evil and shed as much human blood as any other cause. The agitation threatened the existence of the Union. It could not by supposed that fathers and mothers who bed trembling at night lest their mansions might be involved in flames before the morning, and all the horrors of servile insurrec-

Union with a people which encouraged such en-ormities. Self-preservation is the first law of nature, and above all other laws. "Surrounded by these circumstances, I took my stand on this question, from which I have never since departed. Under the constitution, the Southern States have rights guarantied to them, and those rights I determined to maintain, come weal, come woe. I determined that I would never risk the blessings of this glorious confed eracy, with all the benefits it holds out, not only to ourselves, but to the whole human race, for the sake of an unavailing philanthropy. The constitutional rights of the South, under our constitutional compact, are as much entitled to pro-tection as those of any other portion of the

"Before the fatal agitation of abolition arose this happy event, (gradual emancipation,) in several of the States, was approaching its consummation. The current of public opinion was running strongly in that direction. The aboliion excitement at once put an end to these bright * I adhere to the brave of Balaklava, Alma, and Inkermann." tution as it is. May it be perpetual! Mr. Buchanan's Speech on the annexation of Texas

The above extract is copied by the Pennsylvanian, the organ of the Democracy of the Key Stone State with the following comments, which we commend to those of our opponents, who, in the present crisis desire to pursue that course, which will best conserve the rights of the South. The most proper mode of obtaining an accurate understanding of the principles and opinions of residence of the Turkish Minister, which was a statesman is to review his public career, and given in honor of the Queen of England. The to peruse his own declarations, The mere slang Morning Post, of Wednesday, thus described this of partisan scribblers and declaimers, garbling or splendid affair: nterpolating such expressions as may suit their purpose, cannot influence the decision of any upright citizen in the pursuit of truth. And, Musurus with her presence, at a grand ball given therefore, it is our purpose to make quotations in honor of Her Majesty, at the residence of the from various addresses and speeches of Mr. Buchanan. They will speak for themselves, and furnish a better refutation of the slanders of his had attracted a vast assemblage of spectators to nemies than anything which could be written by his friends.

It is true, an act of Congress, passed more than thirty years after the date of the Constitu-tion (the Missouri Compromise), limited the ex-tension of slavery in one direction—one only. That act was approved by Mr. Buchanan. It was approved by the South; but, like any other was approved by the South; but, like any other act, it was subject to repeal. With these divisions and dissensions among 10,000 rockets at a time were fired. The seige and storming of Sevastopol—Kaladiescopepieces the prospects of the campaign may be readily answered. According to the State election of the same and storming cascades or ceaseless water fells all these pieces were of immense magnitude. One beautiful device consisted of a grove of yew trees of upwards of three hundred thousand rotes. comprehending an electorol majority of seventy nine, including all the Northern States, and De ware, Maryland and Kentucky in the South, besides a hard push for Tennessee. Now were these opposition, elements united in a common cause, and upon a common ticket, and for the simple, practical, tangible purpose of a new administra and Palmer is sentenced to be hung. He was yesterday remanded back to his own county, where the deeds were committed.

The great Palmer poisoning case is indicated, and nigger driving Democracy the most disastrious and decisive overthrow of any in the fluctuating fortunes of the party. But with this opposition majority cut up and divided into constitutions have an Fillmore Fremont. tion, they might still give to the fillibustering cting factions, between Fillmore, Fremont Stockton and others, they must necessarily be routed and scattered like a flock of silly sheep beore the solid masses of the "fierce Democracie." What chance of an election is there for Fre nont, with Fillmore in the field, substracting his sands from the ranks, which, to be victorious, must be compact and unbroken? hance whatever. What chance is there for Fillmore, with Fremont and his partizans arrayed gainst him? About as much chance as for an in the moon. Between the Know-Nothing and the nigger worshipper, the dullest of block heads will readily perceive that there will be nothing left for Mr. Buchanan to do but to make heads will his domestic arrangements, his Cabinet and foreign appointments, &c., preparatory to the oc-cupation of the President's mansion, on the fourth of March next. The result of the election from the existing condition of things among the op-position ranks, is just as certain as if it had al eady taken place, and had gone by default in favor of the Democratic party.

It may be said by the astute Know-Nothings of the Southern school, and even by Fremont mathematicians, that while Fremont may carry the North in spite of Fillmore, the latter may really serve a good purpose in carrying a Southern State or two as an offset against the possible loss of a Northern State or two; and that in this way the election may be thrown into the House Representatives at Washington, where the combined opposition forces have an overwhelming majority, and can choose either Fremont or Fillmore, as they may determine among themselves. But this is a most delusive estimate, as rounding multitude announced the approach of the Queen. Her Majesty was received by a both retained in the field. Each will only weakthe Queen. Her Majesty was received by a Guard of Honor of the Coldstreams, stationed in front of the Embassy, and, on alighting from the royal carriage, M. and Madame Musurus adcan be but one and the same result in every Southern State, to-wit: a Democratic majority Let Mr. Fillmore adhere to his present positio "South American" candidate, and the election night of November next will, in all probability, leave him without the vote of a solitary State in the Union. On the other hand, he may be strong enough to break down Frement in every Northern State, except two or three of the ultra anti-slavery character. After alluding to the sully demonstrations got ten up by Fillmore's friends in New York, the article proceeds thus: What is the use of all this? It is all folly-s waste of time. a waste of enthusiasm, a waste of money, and a cruel mockery of the simple minded believers that the day of miracles has returned. The Presidential election can only be carried beconstitutional. It was repealed, and repealed by northern votes; and the whole question remains precisely where it was at the beginning of the government, when George Washington was the President of the United States.

But if we listened to the Muklewraths of the present day, we might suppose the South was guilty of every species of aggression; whereas, tae wild fanatics, while engaged in their offentage and thus the royal party ascending the stairs, entered the ball room—a noble apertment, which struck the beholder as presenting all the gorgeou-ness of Eastern fash ion, refined by the purest taste. The effect of the whole room was that of a golden flood of sunshine. The floor was of exquisite parquetarile, preserving an amber that; the walls were hung with a golden fabric, the draperies were of the softest colored marble. On the room were of the softest colored marble. On a slightly elevated dais, carpeted with crimson named plan, they will require a purely Southern named plan, they will require a purely Southern ticket for the South exclusively, to run against the democracy in that section; if the latter plan, they must concentrate the whole strength of all the anti-administration forces of the North, whig, democratic, free-soil, abolition, Know-Nothing take care of itself.

and foreign vote upon Fremont, and let the Sout take care of itself.

Considering the existing divisions and discordant and clashing platforms, tickets and factions among the opposition camps, there is but one course of action left them, as affording any way of escape whatever from the most ignommious de feat all around. That course is a general Con vention, with a view to a general concentration of their forces upon a single ticket in opposition to the Democracy. We propose, therefore, for the sake of giving some degree of interest, spirit and activity to this canvass, that the opposition parties and factions of all sorts—old whigs, anti-Parties and nations of all sorts—old whigs, anti-Pierce and anti-nigger driving Democrats, free-soilers proper, nigger worshippers, know nothings and what not—call conjointly a general fusion Convention, for the practical purpose of a con-federation or coalition ticket for the Presidency, upon the broad platform of the Constitution, the nion and a new administration, and that this practical and common sense Convention be held adoption of some such plan of cohesion and con-centration against the common enemy-old Whigs old free-soil Democrats, nigger worshippers, know nothings, bolters and all, will be whipped, routed, dispersed, and ignominiously crushed out from one end of the country to the other. A union Convention of all the opposition leaders a consolidation of all their forces upon one common ticket, and upon a simple, comprehensive anti-Democratic platform, is their only chance.

HADDONFIELD, N. J. April 20. I was attacked by a severe pain in the side, in the region of the liver. I suffered intensely through the whole winter. During all this time I was confined to my house, had a violent cough, raised much bloody matter, and was suppose by myself and others to be in the last sta sumption. The February following when apparently life was at a close, I procured a bot-tle of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. As soon as I commenced its use, I began to grow better.
The soreness of my side grew less, the cough gradually left me, the profuse expectoration and spitting of blood ceased, and my general health became by degress restored. I was soon enabled to resume my trade, that of a carpenter, which I we continued without interruption. I wil further remark that this remarkable cure was effected by only three bottles of the Balsam. Truly yours, THOMAS COZZENS.

Freemont, the recreant South Carolinian with abolition principles is fairly in the field, the creature of the fusion of the Black Republican and "North American" (Know Nothing) conventions, although they have a double-headed Vice-Presidential ticket, viz: Dayton, of New Jersey and Ex-Governor Johnston, of Pennsylvania. This fusion of treasonable disunionists is based upon a common animosity to slavery and Democracy and a common thirst after the spoils. The whole anti-slavery and Know Nothing opponational Democratic party, the Constitution and the Union. In seeking to accomplish the success of ultra Abolitionism and the defeat of the great Democracy, the wire-workers rely confidently upon the aid of Mr. Fillmore and his Southern Know Nothing adherents. The New York Herald now so rampant for Frement, let the cat out of the bag some time since as follows: The triumphs of the combined opposition forces under General Harrison and General Taylor, and otherwise inglorious weakness of the old Whig party in a single-handed fight against the solid Democracy, suggest the true policy of the opposition forces in the present campaign. Mr. Fillmore accepts, on broad national grounds, the Philadelphia Know Nothing nomination. He is a popular man in the South, and with anything like an ordinary effort on the part of his friends, he ought, at least to carry the States of Delayare. he ought, at least, to carry the States of Delaward Maryland, Kentucky, Tennessee and North Car-olina. If he can do this, or anything near it, the opposition in the North can afford the loss of Pennsylvania and two or three other smaller States, and still be able to leave Mr. Buchanan in a minority of the electoral and popular vote of the country. In this event the election would, of course, go up to the House of Representatives at Washington where the opposition, being in a heavy majority, would undoubtedly be able to control the election.

Here the infamous policy is coldin avowed using Mr. Fillmore as a decoy-duck to weaken the national Democracy at the South, as to throw the election into the Black Republican Know Nothing House of Representatives! It is the same policy that has been boldly charged upon leading Southern Knew Nothings, who, in the in ensity of their latred for the Democracy, in ensity of their latred for the Democracy, in each of the same policy that has been boldly charged upon leading Southern Knew Nothings, who, in the in five. To represent Mr. Buchanan as having made the remark attributed to him, in the absence of to a state of unparalled papperism, is feolish. A charge into which knavery and folly both enter can never harm the man against whom it is di-rected, in the estimation of an intelligent people. It can injure only those who make it, and those only ought to be injured by it, and those only will be injured by it. We believe Mr. Buchanan would heartly rejoice to know that every working man in the world was earning enough to the comfortably, and to place something aside every week. We helieve, too that he would be as ready as any man to do his part towards realizing that "good time" that we all hope is to come for the children of toil. It is unfortunate for him that his position in politics is to cause many Democrats to oppose him who can find littie to object to him as a man, but who have no wish to see him assailed anew with the falsehoods that were so rife in 1840, that year of political at it, it seems to be a well written and interesting volume.

The profigery, when so much was done to debauch the public mind, and when the troubles with which we are now beset had their origin..."

1998 Mr. Buchanan is very tall and English looking, having a burly figure and florid com-plexion. There is a defect or squint in one of his eyes, which gives him a very peculiar expression, of work we have ever seen. It was made by Harry Hudson, and cost one thousand dollars.

The Gift Concert by the Julien Minstrels came off at Mozat Hall last night. The drawing gave general satisfaction.

eyes, which gives him a very peculiar expression, especially while looking at the ladies. Mr. Buchanan is glightly bald, and his hair very gray-indeed almost white. His manner is cold, calm, and dignified, and decidedly aristocastic. There is a peculiar expression of benevolence combined with firmness which is very engaging. His face wins on you the more you see it. Mr. Buchanan has either met with an accident to his neck, or has acquired a very disagreeble habit of jerking his head suddenly down, as though his cravat was choking him, his shirt-collar tickling him under the ear, or something of the sort. When he squints one eye into a good, sly wink, and ducks his head at the same time he is looking at any of the fair sex, he certainly appears like an "old sinner," and one disposed to forget his years and the gravity of his distinguished position before the world. Mr. Breckinridge is decidedly one of the noblest looking men in the State of noble men. He has the eye of an eagle—large, blue and full of expression. His bearing is that of a fearless man, with a front to inspire awe and admiration. Mr. Breckinridge is a young man, and remarkably young looking. He generally wears a frock coat buttoned up closely. His figure is tall and grace-ful, and his whole air full of dignity and repose. The expression of Breckinridge's lower face indicates clearly the firmness and steadiness of his character. There is a fixed appearance about the jaws, as though he had a nail or other hard substance between his teeth-the certain indication of nerve. His manners are frank, plain and cordial, and to use a Kentucky expression his heart is in the right place. He will preside over the deliberations of the Senate of the United States as its presiding officer, if elected Vice-President, with credit to himself, and with a thorough appreciation of the propriety and dignity due that august body representing the conservative element of our Government,—N Q, Delta.

The power of operator to receive Mr. Prentice. In good time the pression is the same, whether it be foreign or domestic. Can we not combine for the overthrow of these powers of darkness? [Applause. Men have before formed combinations to advance certain ideas, when upon ail other subjects their opinions were as wide apart as the poles. Religious bodies unite in the work of tract distribu-tion, to send the Bible to the heathen, to explore pagan lands, and no one thinks of inquiring who in those bodies is a Presbyterian, who an Episcopalian, who a Baptist, or a Methodist. They have come forward with a united purpose, and no man asks about their individual faith. Is it possible that the people of the North cannot unite for the overthrow of that hydra-headed monster Popery and slavery? [Applause.] I tell you that we 'can.' [Great applause.] I tell you we 'will' unite. [Uproarious cheering.] Politicians everywhere who oppose us in this will be compelled before the day of election to give way to the will of the people. [Applause. We have done our duty, so far as the offers of peace and union are concerned. It is true that our advances have been spurned, [applause,] and, instead of being treated like gentlemen, we have been treated like dogs. [Applause.] But, sir, my policy in such cases as this is expressed in the saying which is familiar to you, than "no gentleman will offend me, and no other man can." And now, after I have been with you for a year or more, you will give me leave to say that it has become our duty lare-even if it bring upon us the charge of egotlsm—that the American party claims credit for being the first to effect a union against the aggressions of slavery. [Applause.] Let us inscribe upon our banners, and proclaim it to the enemies of liberty everywhere, that the American party was the first which proclaimed the principles of freedom, [tremendous applause] -the first, anywhere, to hold that it has inalien ble rights, among which are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. The whig party has bidden high for Southern support. The demo-crats have made bids for it. Every other party has bidden for it, till the American party sprang That party has said to the South, we can no longer serve you; and it was the first party that ever said this thing. [Applause.] We now come together for purposes of union, and wherever the word union is used, it means that concessions must be made, or no union can be effected. Let us forget the little insults that may be offered by foolish, erring men. [Applause. Governor Ford proceeded to say that he regretted he withdrawal of Mr. Banks, but rejoiced that there was left upon the ticket a Johnston. With his name upon the ticket, it would sweep the West, It was all that was wanted. ARRIVAL OF THE

NEW YORK, June 27. The steamer Asia arrived from Liverpool with dates to the 14th inst. There is still much excitement in regard to Americans affairs. The London Times and Morning Post demand the re-call of Mr. Dallas by the United States Govern-on the state of the Union. He vindicated the of their organization from the lips of one so ment, but it was not generally supposed that he prominent in the order, we publish below the would be dismissed. The cities of Liverpool and Manchester have issued peace addresses to the citizens of Amrica, and the feeling of the people is active in favor of peace. The Government, however, talks in a hoitile manner.

Lords Palmerston and Clarendon stated in Parliament on Friday that the dismissal of the American minister had not been decided. Lord John Russell gave notice of a motion of inquiry into the intentions of the government, insamuch as the feeling of the people was in favor of peace.

The steamer Fulton, with Crampton on board. reached Southampton on the 14th instant.

Articles in the London Times and Post on Crampton's dismissal, are studiously offensive, and demand the dismissal of Dallas, and application of force to the United States. The commercial and manufacturing classes, however, are filled with anxiety at the terrible consequences of war with the United States, moving actively to

The North American fleet will consist of the following vessels: Nile, 91 guns; Powerful, 84; Boscawen, 70; Imaum, 72; Pembrake, 60; Cornwallis, 60; Furjalis, 51; Amphiou 34; Vestal, 26; Eurdice, 25; Termagant, 24; Cossack, 21; Rylander, 15; March 15; March 15; March 16; Policies des, 21; Avachne, 15; Malacca, 17; Falcon, 17; Archer, 15; Mariner, 11; Espeigle, 12; Arab, 12; Daring, 12; Buzzard, 6; Argus, Basilisk 6; Scor-pion, 6; the 17 gun sloops fitted with new long 32 guns, the 6 gun steamers, guns all new and long range, if the gun boats be taken into account above, 800 new guns may be added to the above computation.

In the House of Lords on Friday Lord Clarendon said the day before yesterday Mr. Dallas called upon him and read a despatch from Mr. Marcy, in which it was stated that the explanations of the British Government were perfectly satisfactory on the recruiting question. American Government was satisfied that the British Government had given no instructions, and that they had no intention doing so to violate the laws; but so far as related to the proceedings of Crampton and the proceedings of the Consuls, the explanation which had been offered was not sufficiently satisfactory. The American dovernment had therefore resolved upon sending Crampton his passports and also upon with-drawing the exequatur of the Consuls.

Her Majesty's Government had not yet had an opportunity of arriving at any conclusion as to the course they should adopt, but as soon as they had it should be communicated to Parliament, and the dispatches, a copy of which Mr. Dallas had left with him, should be laid on the table. He thought it his duty also to state that Mr. Dallas had read to him another dispatch, in which the Central American question was treat-

On that subject the American Government considered that there were some parts of the question which might with advantage be made the subject of arbitration between the two governments. Palmerston made substantially the same declaration in the Hause of Commons. Air. Balie said, that, as he had given notice of a motion on the enlistment question, he wished to know whether the noble Lord would lay on the table the dispatch sent by Mr. Marcy; unless that was done, he should deem it his duty to bring the question up on Monday.

Lord Palmerston said the Government desired to give all the correspondence that could fairly be procured, and the Hon. gentleman might take his choice, whether to bring the question on Monday or Friday Mr. Gibson said he understood from the noble Lord that Mr. Dallas had made a communicae

Central American question to arbitration.

Lord Palmerston said it would require time to enter into a long detail and give explanations upon that point, but he might say the general tenor of the communication was that the United States Government were of opinion that the question would be better settled by direct negotiation between the two Governmets.

Gibson inquired whether in case a direct ne-gotiation failed, the American Governmen would refuse arbitration. Palmerston replied that there was no refusal f arbitration. D'Israeli expressed a hope that the noble Lord would lay a despatch on the table before the debate took place on Bailie's motion. Palmerston replied that would depend on the manner in which the Government might reply. The subject was then dropped, NEW YORK, June 28. The Vigilance Committee arrested several ballot-box stuffers and desperadoes. They also obtained possession of a fraudulent ballot-box, an ingenious construction. The most assounding election frauds have been revealed.

Some of the opponents of the Vigilance Committee held a mass meeting. By printed playing the friends of the Committee were not thenter the plaza during the meeting, the effect of which was to show the real strength of the law and or-der party. About 2,600 were present. There was no violence, but much confusion. Resolu-tions were passed calling upon the people to resigt the Vigilance Committee.

A petition, numerously signed, was in circulation asking the Governor to call an extra session of the legislature. The vigilance committee deny having anything to do with the petition.

The San Francisco Herald is the only journal which opposes the committee. It puts a different coloring on the state of affairs. It says the Governor's proclamation is brigely responded to; that oitizens are largely pressing forward to enroll under the authoritiee, that on the 4th of June 1500 were erolled; that by Saturday 10,000 would be armed on the side of law and order. We learn from Hyde Park, that W. P. Stephena justice of peace of that place, was shot dead this afternoon while riding in his carriage with W. P. Jones. Mr. Jones was so much alarmed at his own safety that he did not stop to ascertain from whom the fatal shot came. Some perons who recently had a difficulty with Mr. Stephens are suspected of the crime. The deceased leaves a family.

THIRTY-FOURTH CONGRESS-FIRST SES-SION.

WASHINGTON, June 28. The Senate is not in session to-day. House.—Messrs. Howard and Sherman, of the nvestigating Committee, have returned and appeared in their seats. The House resumed the peared in their seats. The house resumed the consideration of the bill for the admission of Kansas into the Union. Mr. Washburn, of Maine, said Mr. Stephens' proposition was a side-blow to kill the Kansas bill. Mr. Stephens denied this, expressing the desire that the latter on the state of the Union. He vindicated the Kansas-Nebraska act, and condemned the move-ments of the Northern people to thwart the policy of that measuro.

Mr. Stephens said the pending bill admitted on its face that the Topeka constitution was formed against law and order. He was inclined to think the real object of this movement was not so much to get Kansas into the Union, as a free State, as to kindle fires of civil war in the country. Mr. Campbell, of Ohio, in the course of his reply to Mr. Stephens, said he could prove that Jefferson denied the constitutional power to acquire territory, and could produce the origina manuscript of a letter of Jefferson's, written a few years before his death, in which he not only clude slavery. This letter he intended to have lithographed, to accompany his speech. Mr Campbell denied that the Kansas-Nebraska bil carried out the provisions of the Compromise measures of 1850, arguing the constitutionality and expediency of excluding slavery from the Territories. Campbell and Stephens repeatedly interrupted each other, for explanations regarding the controverted points on slavery. Mr. Evans was in favor of admitting Kansas as soon as practicable, without regard to the number of inhabitants, provided a fair election can be had. He would send Gen. Scott thither, to secure such result. He contended that popular sovereignty was an egregious error, because no people can exercise sovereign power till they acquire com-plete jurisdiction over the soil.

Mr. Morrill contended that the Administration must be held responsible for the agitation, and argued against the extension of slavery into the

It was then moved to lay the bill on the table negatived 70, against 101.

The demand of the previous question was sustained by 98 against 63. The main question was ordered, and the bill to be the first business Monday morning.

URMAN'S SAFES.
C. Urran, Req.: Deer Sir—we take pleasured expressing our entiresatisfaction in the utility of your salamander Safes, of which we had two in use at our liquor and Rectifying establishment, on Sycamore treet, at the late severe confiagration. Surrounded by the most combustible material, and remaining for early two days in the burning ruins, our surprise was beyond lescription in finding, after opening said Safes everything in good order. In tendering to you our sincere gratification, we do not chesitate to recommend your Safes to those in want of such an article, as we know from experience that they truly are what they represent to be, "fire proof."

We remain very truly yours,

I would impress upon the mind that to triffe with this disease, may be to sport with that reason which constitutes man super-emirent among animal beings, or to embitter existence by adding a consciousness of folly to the penalty of pain.

This medicine is prepared entirely from vegetable substances, the most delicate stomach can bear it conveniently, and it is given with perfect aftery, in minute doses to the most tender infants, its properties being of a strengthening and invigorating nature. It is nearly put up in bottles, with ample directions for usel known and respectable citizens of Philadelphia, are fully corroborative of the tried efficacy of the Anti Dyspepue Elixir.

Philadelphia, March 16, 1853. Wilhams's Anti-Dyspeptic Entail.

Doctor James Williams:—For several years past, I have been liable to attacks of Dyspepsia; but never have I been more distressingly afflicted with its symptoms, than within the last few weeks. Indigestion, nervous irritability, despondency, a sense of weight in the siomach, and severe pains in the left side, rendering me, for the time being, truly wretched. Fortanately, I was recommended by a friend to try your Eikir. I did so, and in less than two weeks, indigestion ceased; pain and ner cous depression left me, and appetite, with mental and bodily health, were fully restored. To me the cure seemed almost mi raculous, and my object in writing to you sis—a hope that other persons suffering the miseries of Dyspepsia will avail themselves of your efficient remedy.
